

Fiderion Joins Signium International.

Date: Monday, August 13 2007

ATLANTA -- Fiderion announced today that it has joined Signium International Inc.'s global network of retained executive search consultancies. The addition of Fiderion significantly strengthens Signium's market position in the financial services and professional services sectors and expands its U.S. presence.

Based in Chicago, Signium International now has 34 offices in 20 countries and plans to continue its expansion throughout the Americas, Europe and Asia Pacific. Signium International Chairman Ignacio Bao said, "The addition of Fiderion, with their financial services expertise, provides an exciting synergy for our global clients in the industry, especially those seeking to expand their operations from Europe and Asia into the United States."

Fiderion was founded in 2002 by James B. Norton, III and has offices in Atlanta, New York and San Francisco. A 30-year industry veteran, Norton was formerly the senior managing director and head of the Americas Financial Services Practice at Korn/Ferry International. He previously served as managing director and head of the Regional Financial Services Practice at both LAI Worldwide and GKR. Fiderion serves a wide range of clients in the financial services industry, from global/specialist asset management firms to hedge funds, banking and insurance.

"A number of global companies already rely on both Signium and Fiderion to maintain a competitive advantage through specialized talent acquisition and industry knowledge. Our new affiliation represents an expansion of our commitment to our clients and candidates," said Norton.

For further information about Signium International and Fiderion, visit www.signium.com or www.fiderion.com.